Copyright Policy 2022

Policy for the use of texts from Bibles in the vernaculars of South Africa Print • Audio • Digital

1. INTRODUCTION

Since its inception in 1820, it has always been the mission of the Bible Society of South Africa (BSSA) to provide the Holy Scriptures to every man, woman and child in a language and form each can readily understand, and at an affordable price. To achieve this goal, the work of the BSSA consists of Bible translation, Bible production and Bible distribution. This task, undertaken without profit, is a cause which all Christians and churches are urged to support. Please feel free to visit our website at www.biblesociety.co.za.

The BSSA is the exclusive holder and worldwide proprietor of all copyrights in a range of Bible texts in English, Afrikaans, Sepedi (Northern Sotho), Sesotho (Southern Sotho), Setswana (Tswana), isiNdebele (Southern Ndebele), Siswati (Swati), Xitsonga (Tsonga), Tshivenda (Venda), isiXhosa (Xhosa) and isiZulu (Zulu). Any use of a Bible text in any manner or form requires the BSSA's consent, prior to any publication thereof.

2. WHY DOES COPYRIGHT SUBSIST IN BIBLE TEXTS?

When it comes to Bible texts, copyright is essentially a matter of Biblical stewardship. It is about managing these texts so as to ensure that they are not directly or indirectly compromised, in such a manner as to ensure the ongoing sustainability of Bible mission. It protects the integrity of the text and it protects the rights of the copyright holder who invests significantly in both the translation of the text and its ongoing maintenance and revision. Under Copyright Law, no person or publisher will be allowed to publish the Bible texts, which have been translated from the original source languages by the BSSA at considerable cost, without consent whether for commercial or non-commercial purposes.

Consistent with this principle, the BSSA has concluded several agreements with the copyright holders of English and other foreign language Bible texts. As remuneration for the right to publish these Bibles, the BSSA pays royalties to the copyright holders.

3. WHEN SHOULD I APPROACH THE BSSA FOR CONSENT?

All other translations and editions to which the BSSA holds copyright are excluded from such permission. Please also note that the creation of any audio recording of any Bible text translation to which the BSSA holds copyright, or a complete Bible text in a digital publication, such as eBooks and mobile application software will require written permission from the BSSA.

We outline below the scenarios where such use is automatically permitted, as well as those where a formal application must first be lodged with the BSSA.

4. SCENARIO 1: Use of Bible text without the need for formal permission

Provided that the following conditions are met, permission is automatically granted to quote up to and including five hundred (500) verses from any of the above BSSA publications:

- 4.1. The quoted verses may not constitute more than fifty percent (50%) of a complete book from the Bible; and
- 4.2. The quoted verses may not constitute more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the total text of the work; and
- 4.3. A suitable copyright notice must appear on the work (see page 3 for examples hereof); and

- 4.4. One (1) copy of the work must be couriered to the BSSA as a copyright copy, marked for the attention of:

Legal Practitioner and Copyright Officer
Bible Society of South Africa
134 Edward Street
Bellville
7530

For administrative purposes, please send a confirmatory email to copyright@biblesociety.co.za once your copyright copy has been couriered to us.

5. SCENARIO 2: Use of Bible texts where formal permission is required

Formal, written consent is required where more than five hundred (500) verses from any of the above Bible texts are utilised, or where the use of such Bible text exceeds either conditions 4.1. or 4.2. above. A formal application form must be lodged with the Legal Practitioner and Copyright Officer (copyright@biblesociety.co.za).

Copyright permission must always be requested during the planning phase of the work, prior to the production thereof. Applications are assessed on their individual merits, and the BSSA has the sole discretion to approve or refuse any application, as well as to set the conditions of any approval.

Your application must clearly state whether the product will have commercial or non-commercial application, or both:

5.1. Commercial application

A product has an application in commerce where, notwithstanding its format, it is subject to a sale, lease or trade agreement. A formal application form must be lodged with the BSSA for any use of our Bible texts in media which have commercial application, and where such use exceeds any of the conditions under heading 1.

Where a product has commercial application, two (2) copyright copies of each publication in each format must be couriered the BSSA free of charge and as soon as possible after publication.

5.2. Non-commercial application

Non-commercial application of a product is any use other than commercial application as defined above, and generally means the free distribution of works which contain Bible texts. Use by local churches such as bulletins, orders of service, bulletin boards, posters and overhead transparencies, recordings of worship services, or similar materials used in the course of religious instruction or services at a place of worship or other religious assembly would fall into this category. Please note that a formal copyright application must still be lodged with the BSSA where it exceeds any of the conditions under heading 1. Where the Bible text is utilized as lyrics in a song, permission must be obtained from the BSSA for the production of the song.

Where a product has non-commercial application, one (1) copyright copy of each publication in each format must be couriered to the BSSA free of charge and as soon as possible after publication.

5.3. Media application

Permission requests to make use of BSSA Bible text quotations or audio recordings on media channels such as via television and/or radio broadcasts, digital streaming services, social media campaigns, live performances and other related use, must be directed to the BSSA's Head: Communications and Marketing (biblia@biblesociety.co.za).

6. HOW MUST COPYRIGHT BE ACKNOWLEDGED?

Any quotation of the above Bible texts must be accompanied by a suitable copyright acknowledgment. The wording of the acknowledgement will depend on the format of the work in which the quotation is utilized.

It is furthermore important to note that “Afrikaans Ou Vertaling” and “Afrikaans Nuwe Vertaling” are not official BSSA acronyms for the Bible in Afrikaans 1933/1953 and Bible in Afrikaans 1983/1992, and may therefore not be used when referring to these Bible texts.

6.1. Written/printed format

The following copyright notice must appear on the verso page of the work:

A full copyright acknowledgement, as per 6.1., is required in the case of c).

Where Bible text is published on social media, e.g. Facebook, the publication is limited to one verse at a time. Under these circumstances, a shortened copyright notice is acceptable, for example:
